CENSUS TRACT INFORMATION: A BRIEF GUIDE TO PRINTED REPORTS

Introduction

Since 1940, Census information for San Francisco has been reported by areas known as Census Tracts. The City is divided into 150 tracts, ranging in area from Tract 118 in Chinatown (14 acres, 1,515 persons) to Tract 604 which includes Lake Merced (1,500 acres, 2,211 persons).

This information is available in three media:

1. Computer
2. Micrographic (i.e. Microfilm & Microfiche)
3. Printed reports

Of the three, only printed reports are generally accessible. They are inexpensive ($14.50 for the 1,500 page San Francisco Oakland SMSA report, which contains data for all of the tracts of the five county Bay Area); they require no special equipment to read; they may be reproduced or copied without infringement. (Some vendors of Census information copyright their table formats, even though the data is in the public domain.) Although printed reports may not contain the variety of cross tabulations found in computer media, they have enough information for most analytical purposes.

The aim of this brief guide is to present, in compact form, the tables of contents and table formats of three Census reports available to the interested users. They are:

1970 Census Tract Report PHC(1)-189

1980 Census Tract Report PHC80-2-321

Special Report, Neighborhood Statistics Program PHC80-SP1-6

(Although the 1970 report is out of print, and the Special Report is of limited circulation, copies of both are available for reference use at the San Francisco Public Library, Main Branch, Civic Center in the Science and Documents Room.)

Contents

1. Covers and Tables of Contents from each report.
2. Tables containing comparable information from the 1970 and 1980 reports.

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2014

https://archive.org/details/censustractinfor1984sanf

3. Tables appearing only in the 1980 or NSP report.

4. Census Tract maps for 1970 & 1980. (The NSP map is only available in a 16" x 20" form and isn't included in this package.)

Notes

1. All publications are available at the Public Library.

2. Maps are available from the Graphics Section.

3. Neighborhood Statistics Program boundaries do not correspond with Census tract boundaries. This is an alternative set of reporting areas, not a replacement for Census tracts. The red lines on the NSP map are NSP boundaries; the black, Census tracts.

4. Comparability of specific items of information between 1970 and 1980 is not guaranteed. Check Appendix B of the 1980 Tract report or the 1980 Census User's Guide to be sure of definitions.
